

LEAD FOR EARTH

BRANDING GUIDE

What is LEAD FOR EARTH?

The LEAD for Earth initiative came out of the first International LEAD EcoCamp. This is a joint effort to bring together schools in the Lasallian East Asia District (LEAD). Based on our shared Lasallian Core Values, this project encourages our school communities to go from being aware of environmental issues to taking real action to protect the climate.

To make the most of our collective impact and show global solidarity, this district-wide mobilization will officially begin in August 2026, marking the start of a permanent, monthly commitment across all participating campuses. Each institution promises to carry out its chosen environmental action during a shared campaign month, united under the hashtag #LEADforEarth as a visible, collective testament to our shared mission.

VISUAL IDENTITY

Primary Logo

Secondary Logo

Submark

The LEAD for Earth logo takes the form of an abstract leaf, symbolizing growth, renewal, and environmental stewardship. Its upward movement reflects leadership and collective progress toward a more sustainable future, while the interconnected “LEAD” wordmark represents the unity and collaboration of Lasallian communities working together in caring for our common home.

Brand Elements

BRAND COLORS

The colors of LEAD for Earth are inspired by the natural tones commonly found in the environment, with green serving as the primary color to symbolize growth, sustainability, and renewal. The varying shades of green represent the diversity of nature and the collective efforts of communities working toward a shared purpose. Complemented by neutral tones, the palette reflects balance, harmony, and the initiative's commitment to caring for the Earth through unified action.
